Why Executive Development Programme at Saveetha School of Management?

Saveetha School of Management's Executive Development Program transforms mid-level to senior administration leaders to decide and make an essential move in view of both conventional and imaginative strategic approaches. Members construct abilities and mindfulness as they understand their true capacity for accepting and flourishing in everyday administrative jobs.

Scope of this programme

Healthcare organizations are complicated and dynamic. The management expects that managers have autonomy and coordination enhance workers. The external domain refers to the influences, resources, and activities that exist outside the boundary of the organization but that significantly affect the organization. These factors include community needs, population characteristics, reimbursement issues as well as government plans. The internal domain refers to ensuring the appropriate number and types of staff, financial performance and quality of care.

Keeping the dual perspective requires significant balance on the part of management of health care institutions. Leadership and Strategic Management in Hospital Administration programme at Saveetha School of Management will equip in these skills.
